An international webinar celebrating International Microorganism Day, focused on “Career Opportunities in Life Sciences in India and Abroad,” was organized by the Department of Microbiology on September 17, 2021. Dr. Chandrakantha Mahendranathan from Eastern University of Sri Lanka was the keynote speaker. The introduction was provided by Dr. Pranita Gulhane, while Dr. Atul Bobdey, the department coordinator, delivered the concluding remarks. The event was wrapped up with a vote of thanks by Dr. Manpreet Kour.

Action Taken: During the webinar, approximately 264 students participated. The guest speaker offered valuable insights into career opportunities in life sciences, equipping students with essential knowledge for navigating their career paths. This guidance not only broadened their understanding but also highlighted emerging trends and potential fields of growth. As a result, students are now better prepared to make informed decisions and capitalize on opportunities in the life sciences sector.
