ACTION TAKEN:

On November 21, 2022, the Department of Botany successfully conducted a one-day workshop on "Nursery Techniques," organized under the guidance of Dr. Reshma P. Sonwalkar. The workshop featured Prof. Anjali Phaley as the resource person, whose expertise greatly enriched the session. Prof. Phaley delivered comprehensive lectures on various aspects of nursery management, including soil preparation, seed sowing techniques, and plant propagation methods. Participants were actively engaged in practical demonstrations and interactive discussions, which facilitated a deeper understanding of the subject matter. The workshop received positive feedback from students, who appreciated the hands-on experience and practical insights provided. This initiative significantly enhanced the students' practical skills and knowledge in nursery techniques, contributing to their overall academic and professional growth. Total 130 students participated in workshop
