What's Behind the Science: Yat Dadalay Kay Vigyan

On Science Day, February 28, 2024, the students of Shri Shivaji Science College showcased a unique initiative to raise awareness about science in the community. They conducted a series of captivating demonstrations, revealing the fascinating principles behind various scientific phenomena. These included experiments such as non-burning currency notes, hands that turn red with water, magical paper, and a fire pit that ignites with water.

Throughout the demonstrations, students explained the chemical reactions responsible for these effects, emphasizing that these were the results of science, not magic. The event successfully dispelled myths and deepened the understanding of science among the public.

The demonstrations were well-received by the residents of Kamgar Nagar (Subhash Nagar), Nagpur, who attended the event in large numbers. The program was organized by the Chemistry Department under the guidance of Dr. Rashmi Urkude. Student participants included Ayesha Jabeen, Annaya Sulakhe, Aryaman Srivastava, Kshitij Gupta, and Yugansh Kanoje. The event was further supported by Prof. Mahendra Dhore, Principal of the college, and Prof. R. U. Khope, Head of the Chemistry Department, contributing to its resounding success.

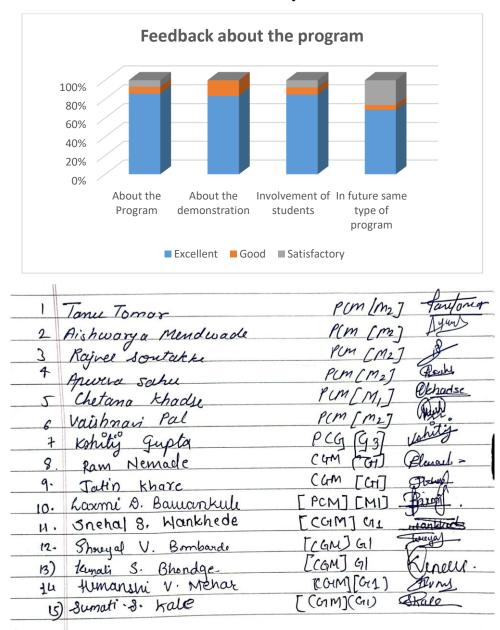

Action Taken - Following the success of the event, the Chemistry Department has decided to conduct similar science awareness programs in other parts of the city to further spread scientific knowledge. Additionally, plans are underway to create a digital repository of the experiments demonstrated, which will be shared with schools and other educational institutions to inspire young minds and foster a deeper understanding of science.
